Go where Ireland takes you

A trip to cultural County Cork would not be complete without a stop in Cork City, a vibrant place with a unique blend of contemporary style and old-world charm. Whether strolling down historical streets, shopping, or enjoying a drink or snack at one of its pavement cafés, Cork City is an experience always to be remembered.

The Lonely Planet thinks Cork's great too – in fact, it named Cork one of its Top 10 Cities to Visit in 2010! Lonely Planet Editor Tom Hall says Cork “has emerged as a fantastic destination in its own right with great restaurants, galleries, bars and shops as well as stunning scenery on its doorstep.”

Festivals & Events

Cork is renowned for its vibrant cultural scene including a strong festival program that attracts the best in film, jazz, literary and musical talent year-round. Check out these festival favourites: Guinness Cork Jazz Festival (October), Kinsale International Gourmet Festival (October) and the Cork Film Festival (November).

Food

County Cork is Ireland's flagship food region, with a gourmet reputation among the finest in Europe. In recent years there has been a resurgence of interest in fine food, which can be seen through the high standards in its restaurants and shops, and the number of colourful weekly food markets throughout the region. For the foodie at heart, a trip to Cork City would not be complete without a visit to The English Market, which can be traced back to 1610.
